

Expect Ruling In Arkansas School Conflict

Federal Judge
To Decide on Board's Request

By United Press
A federal court showdown ruling expected today in the explosive Little Rock integration controversy may demonstrate just how far the U. S. government will go to force a state to obey the desegregation mandate of the Supreme Court.

Federal District Judge Ronald N. Davies is scheduled to hand down a momentous decision in the most significant legal crisis over the race issue since the Supreme Court's desegregation rulings of 1954.

Davies will rule on the Little Rock board of education's request submitted two days ago, to "suspend integration indefinitely" at Little Rock Central High School. Board Makes Request

The board made its "crisis request" after Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard Tuesday to prevent Negroes from enrolling in the school.

The decision will be handed down partially on the basis of an FBI report to Davies on "the facts" of who was responsible for "interference" with his two federal court orders that the school be integrated.

Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. Friday ordered the FBI to confer with Faubus' representatives on "certain evidence" the governor told President Eisenhower he would be glad to furnish and upon which he based his decision to call out the guard.

Faubus Stands Firm
Faubus, who has remained personally uncommunicative since Wednesday, stood firm in his refusal to permit school integration. He continued to maintain the armed guard on the school and on his executive mansion.

In Arkansas' neighboring state of Tennessee, U. S. District Judge William E. Miller ruled Friday that the state's "voluntary" segregation plan was "clearly unconstitutional" clearing the way for racially mixed classes to start in Nashville Monday.

Thirteen Negroes out of 136 eligible have enrolled in previously all-white Nashville schools.

Miller ruled that Tennessee's "voluntary" plan, which would allow parents to choose between segregated or mixed schools for their children, conflicts with the Supreme Court's basic decision against segregation.

Other Areas Quiet
Nashville will be the third city in Tennessee to integrate. Oak Ridge was the first to start mixed classes. In Clinton, scene last year of violence over the issue, students Friday ended the first week of their second year of integrated classes. There was little objection to the presence of Negroes in the schools.

In Sturgis, Ky., it was much the same. Eighteen Negroes again attended previously all-white schools with no incidents, but state police did not relax their guard on the school.

Integration of 10 Negro students proceeded quietly in Charlotte, Greensboro, and Winston - Salem, N. C., but an 11th student, Dorothy Counts, 15, was absent a second day straight in Charlotte.

Her parents said she had a throat infection, but added they also were "thinking it through from all angles." Dorothy was forced to run a gauntlet of stone and stick-throwing whites when she left Harding High School after her first appearance there.

ORDERED TO LEAVE SCHOOL—Four Negro students from nearby Arkansas Baptist college were told by Col. Marion Johnson of the National Guard that they would have to leave the front of Central High school in Little Rock, Ark. The group appeared to observe integration troubles at the school. National Guardsmen escorted them away from the school and the noisy crowd. (NEA Telephoto)

Confer on Mid East as Soviet Notes Delivered to West Powers

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sternly warned Russia today not to "push Syria into an act of aggression" against her neighbors.

By DOUG ANDERSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
Communists around the world warned the United States today to keep its hands off the Soviet-infiltrated Middle East.

Radio Moscow, quoting what it said was an article in the Red organ Pravda, said Russia's latest notes on the Middle East should be regarded as a "serious warning" to those who plan attempts against peace and security.

Lightning Kills Two School Girls

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—A lightning bolt hurled into the midst of a group of schoolgirls huddled under a tree for shelter Friday, killing two of them and injuring 13.

Policeman C. W. Henderson was driving to Reagan Junior High School to pick up his daughter when he saw the bolt crackle thru the tree. The 15 girls waiting under the branches for a driving rainstorm to let up were thrown in every direction, he said.

Police Sgt. Floyd Smith, cruising near the school, said he rushed in the direction of the noise. When he got there, he said children "were lying on top of each other and scattered under the tree."

The lightning killed Linda Condray, 14, Sweetwater, and Robbie Lee Mitchell, 14, of a nearby community. The hair was singed from the Condray girl's head.

Edward L. Topper Receives Degree In Geology from University of Texas

Edward L. Topper, son of Mrs. Inglis M. Taylor of Harrisburg, has received his Bachelor of Science degree in Geology from the University of Texas at Austin.

Mr. Topper was graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school in the Class of 1948. He attended Southern Illinois University, enlisted in the U. S. Air Force on Jan. 2, 1951, and after serving 30 months in Germany, he received his honorable discharge on Nov. 26, 1953.

He is a member of the Alpha Phi Omega national service fraternity, a member of the Masonic order, Elks, American Legion, and also served as Master Councillor of the De Molays in 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor expect Eddie home for a visit in the near future.

The notes, delivered Tuesday to the United States, Britain and France, accused the Western Big Three of interfering in Arab affairs.

The Red radio also accused U. S. diplomatic troubleshooter Loy W. Henderson of "organizing a plot" against Syria in Turkey, Jordan, Iraq and Lebanon.

In Cairo, the pro-government organ Al Nissa printed an interview with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai saying the United States will not dare act against Syria because of Communist support for the Arab state.

The French Communist organ Humanite and various fellow-traveling Paris publications assailed the United States for flying arms to Syria's non-Communist neighbors, saying that a new conflict in the Middle East might mushroom into World War III.

Dispatches from the Middle East said Arabia's King Saud is arriving in Lebanon today on a surprise visit whose effect on the situation in the tense Middle East could not immediately be estimated.

An offer from Saud to guarantee Lebanon's independence undoubtedly would be welcomed by the tiny Arab nation, which recently has been threatened with "union" by its Syrian neighbors.

In Washington, President Eisenhower scheduled a meeting with Henderson and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles which is expected to produce a stern warning to Russia and Syria against Communist penetration which might jeopardize the independence of the Mideast.

Minooka Man Named State Plowing Champ

HUNTLEY, Ill. (AP)—Robert C. Erickson, Minooka, has matched his 1954 record as level land plowing champ in Illinois.

He took the 1957 title Friday on the Colleens' Cote farm north of here in McHenry County, where matches were scheduled Aug. 30 but were rained out.

Erickson won the national title in 1954.

Earle Muir, Odell, won the contour championship, beating out Clark M. Furro, Shelbyville, and Fred K. Wright, Bridgeport.

In the level land contest, Roy Barclay, Carlock, was second and Leroy Sheets, Carthage, was third.

The state winners will compete in the 1957 national plowing matches at Peebles, Ohio, Sept. 17-20.

Will Not Permit Negro Gls, White Wives in Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negro members of the 2nd Armored Division who married white women in Germany in effect today have to make a choice between their wives or their outfit.

The Army said the Negro soldiers can't live with their white wives once the division is transferred to Texas.

"Each man concerned has to make his decision as to whether he wants to remain in the division or transfer out," the Army said. The 2nd Armored is swapping posts in November with the 4th Armored Division at Ft. Hood, Tex.

Texas has strict miscegenation law against allowing Negroes and whites living as man and wife. The Army said it had advised affected personnel of the laws.

The Army's explanation came after Rep. Charles C. Diggs (D-Mich.) asked Army Secretary Wilbur M. Brucker to set aside the recommendation for the Negroes to transfer out of the 2nd Armored.

Diggs, one of three Negro members of the House, protested the Army's position in a telegram to Brucker.

He said the ultimate result of such advice could be to restore to the Army "even more flagrant discriminatory practices than have already been banned" in the military services.

Diggs said he had read press reports from Bad Kreuznach, Germany, that the Army, anticipating possible embarrassment, had recommended to 2nd Armored Division Negroes with German wives that they transfer to another outfit.

'Mad Knifer' Identified By Five Stabbing Victims

Two Children Admit Damage To New Home

Boy and Girl, Both
Age Nine, Confess
To Police Chief

Chief of Police Ross Lane today said the mystery of who damaged the new home of Mr. and Mrs. James Bellamy at the extreme south end of Webster street has been solved.

Chief Lane said that two nine-year-old children, a boy and a girl, had admitted to him that they entered the house and did the damage.

Lane said they told him they entered the house through a front door that would open.

Inside, they said, a stepladder was used to get into a kitchen cabinet and secure some shoe polish, which was used in abundance throughout the new structure.

Inside the living room shoe polish was used to print the words "I Will Kill." In another room was "I Will Kill Tonight." There were crosses made of shoe polish on lamp shades, light bulbs were smashed, dirt was carried in and furniture scratched. At different places throughout the house red shoe polish stained walls. On the patio a fire had been built.

Police did some intensive work in learning who did the destruction. Quite a number of adults in the area and children have been questioned since the act occurred around 6 p. m. Tuesday.

Yesterday afternoon Lane obtained a clue which led to the questioning of the boy and girl, who reside several blocks apart. They admitted going into the house and said they cleaned up after using the polish at one of their own homes.

Lane said he contacted the parents and told them to get with Mr. and Mrs. Bellamy and work out an arrangement whereby they would pay for the damage done.

Vienna authorities are attempting to locate the truck driver, whose name was not available. It is understood he is known and will appear later today for questioning about the accident.

Salvage Belt Damaged by Fire At Sahara Yards

Eleven rolls of salvage belt, stored at the east end of the Sahara machine shop yards, were damaged by fire shortly before 6 p. m. Friday.

The belt had salvage value, but the amount of the loss has not been determined. Fire Chief L. G. Martin reports he was told by Sahara Superintendent Paul Halbersteden.

The fire apparently started from a spark from a weed fire. Martin states. Weeds along the fence rows had been burned off late in the afternoon and it was thought the fire was completely out, however wind fanned the sparks and the belt caught fire.

Strike Closes St. Louis Papers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Picket lines closed down the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the Globe-Democrat at 5 a. m. today as electricians of Local No. 1 went on strike for higher wages.

Also closed was the Post-Dispatch radio and television stations, KSD and KSD-TV.

A union spokesman said the contract expired at midnight and picket lines appeared at the two newspaper plants at 5 a. m. De tails of the wage dispute were not immediately available, but the spokesman said union and management were "far apart" in a settlement.

Reporters, pressmen, and other newspaper employees apparently were observing the picket lines of Local 1, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers at the two newspaper plants.

The strike threatened to disrupt United Press operations in the Post-Dispatch Building, pending official recognition of the dispute by the American Newspaper Guild.

Watchman is Brought Down By Hail of Rocks

Seized In Pursuit
By Two Men Following
Knifing of Girl

CHICAGO (AP)—A hail of rocks brought down a man thought to be the "mad" knifer who stabbed eight persons without provocation in the last week.

Joseph Caraher, 39, a watchman and a former employee of Pinkerton's Detective Agency, was identified by at least five of the stabbing victims Friday as the man who plunged a short-blade knife into them in sudden attacks. Six of the stabbings occurred Friday.

Police said the identifications plus Caraher's incoherent denials, among them charges that "German agents are following me," convinced them they had their man.

Ted Danielson, 35, and James Darnell, 20, told police they took off in pursuit of Caraher late Friday afternoon after he allegedly stabbed Christine Uzciewicz, 14, while she was walking with a girl friend. Gathering rocks as they chased Caraher down an alley and across several streets, the two men said they drove him to the ground twice.

The man struggled to his feet and ran into the arms of an off-duty detective who was standing in front of his home. Police said Caraher was carrying a knife with fresh blood on it.

Caraher was drunk, violent and heaped abuse on them, police said. Later, taken on a tour of city hospitals under heavy guard, Caraher was identified as their assailant by Miss Lillian Mantila, 37, Francis H. Murphy, 35, Miss Uzciewicz, Robert Jozefowicz, 24, and Frank Sydor, 13.

Identification will also be sought from three other victims, Ronald R. McFadden, Tulsa, Okla., who was stabbed Monday in a subway station, H. L. Cook, 22, a Louisville, Ky., pre-medical student, slashed Wednesday while visiting the Lincoln Park Zoo here, and Mrs. Jeannette Berger, 47, who was stabbed while on a coffee break with Miss Mantila.

The first three victims of the knifer Friday morning were Murphy, Miss Mantila and Mrs. Berger, all stabbed in the back by a man who crept up behind them.

Sydor, a 13-year-old high school student, was cut in the abdomen and taken to St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital. This was about noon. About four hours later Jozefowicz became the next victim as he stood in a department store.

Capture of Caraher after the stabbing of the Uzciewicz girl apparently ended the city-wide hunt launched by Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor with the words, "We've got to get this nut off the street."

of Illinois Dixon Springs Experiment Station in Pope county says that winter wheat, winter oats, winter barley and rye all yield well in southern Illinois. They offer an excellent substitute for areas that might normally be seeded in wheat.

In tests at the Dixon Springs Station, winter oats yielded less in 1957 than in previous years. Du-Bois yielded 48.0 bushels an acre and LeConte, 45.3 bushels an acre.
Low yields were partly the result of poor moisture conditions at seeding time, McKibben says.

One inch of irrigation water applied after seeding in the fall of 1956 increased yields of all oat varieties 35.6 percent. Nitrogen applied in the spring of 1957 proved very beneficial where the oats had received no irrigation the previous fall. Yields were doubled by the use of a spring application of nitrogen. However, where nitrogen was applied to areas that had been irrigated the previous fall, irrigation increased yields only 2.9 percent.

A previous experiment had confirmed the fact that spring applications of nitrogen can readily double the yields of poor stands of winter oats where the plants that remain are uniformly distributed.
Winter barley is probably affected less by poor fall moisture conditions at seeding time than are winter oats. Kenbar yielded 32.4 bushels without irrigation and 42.5 bushels with one inch of water applied following seeding. The average increase in yield for all varieties was 31.6 percent for one inch of irrigation water applied at seeding time.

Kenbar and B-475 were the highest yielders under both conditions.
One inch of water after seeding was of no advantage when a spring application of nitrogen was made.
Average yields of all barley varieties were tripled by the use of a spring application of nitrogen where no irrigating was done the previous fall.

Winter wheat followed the pattern of previous yields, with Seneca the highest yielding variety—35.5 bushels an acre—followed by Dual with 34.5 bushels an acre. Knox yielded 30.4 bushels an acre. Hard winter wheats yielded 10-13 bushels an acre less than the best yielding soft winter wheat. An average increase of over 100 percent resulted from applying nitrogen in the spring to all wheat varieties.

Unfavorable (dry) seeding conditions in the fall of 1956 and a very wet spring in 1957 contributed to the excellent increases for spring application of nitrogen on wheat, oats and barley. Nitrogen should not be used indiscriminately on small grains. Use it rather on the basis of stand, weather conditions and the nitrogen-supplying ability of the soil involved.

McKibben points out that no other grain crops provide for such a wide possibility of uses as do the small grains—cash crop, nurse crop, feed grain, erosion control, pasture and grass silage. Consider how they fit into your farm plan.
Then use adapted high-yielding varieties.

Winter oats and barley can be seeded one to one and a half months earlier than the fly-free date for wheat and fit well as a nurse crop for fall seedings of alfalfa. Fly-resistant Dual may be seeded earlier than other varieties of wheat.

To assure best seedings where the seeding is most important, stop up every third drill spout, but still apply two bushels of oats or barley an acre. A band seeding attachment for your drill may increase the chances of the fall-seeded legumes. The large-seeded grasses, such as orchard grass and fescue, should be mixed with the small grain and seeded at a one-inch depth (shallow).

A starter fertilizer may be of value in increasing fall growth of the small grain erosion control and for the legume seeding, especially where there is a band seeding arrangement on the drill.

Place Fertilizer Below Seed Level

Corn roots don't wander through the soil looking for fertilizer.
They grow in a regular pattern, so the plant food for the young seedlings must be placed where it will intercept the roots.

An agronomist reports that the most efficient and safe place to put the starter fertilizer at planting time is in a band one or two inches to the side of the seed and an inch or two below the seed level.

This placement method puts the plant food directly in the path of the corn plant's secondary roots.
This promotes a rapid development of the root system within the fertilizer band.

The corn plant makes the best use of the nutrients when the nitrogen and phosphate are put together in a single band.

Needed potash can also be included in the starter fertilizer.
Farmers can now readily obtain attachments for their corn planters which will insure proper placement of the fertilizer.

These improved attachments, which can replace the old-fashioned split boot or shoe, are available at most implement dealers.

The agronomist points out that while the starter fertilizer is essential in speeding the corn plant's growth from germination to the knee-high state, the crop needs additional fertilizer on most soils to feed it during the entire growing season. This fertilizer can be provided by broadcast and plow-down applications of fertilizer added before planting time.
Such applications are essential in building the soil's over-all fertility level.

To help keep milk production high during the summer, give cows plenty of water. An average cow will drink 15 gallons a day!

Silo Gasses at Filling Time Can Be Dangerous

Chopped forage gives off carbon dioxide gas.

For this reason, you should be extra careful about entering an upright silo during filling, says K. A. Kendall, dairy scientist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

This colorless, odorless gas is especially dangerous when you have stopped filling for several hours during the day or overnight. Kendall points out, since carbon dioxide is heavier than air, it collects in heaviest concentration in the first several feet of space over the silage surface.

Reddish brown nitrogen dioxide is another dangerous silage gas. It is also heavier than air and is extremely harmful to persons who breathe it.

Any movement of air inside the silo during filling will tend to keep the silage masses from collecting, says Kendall. In normal operation the silage blower will keep the inside of the silo ventilated and safe.

To be on the safe side after operations have stopped for a time, however, stay out of the silo until after the blower has run for several minutes.

Urges Rural Schools Keep Tuned to Community Needs

DEKALB—A University of Illinois rural sociologist this week urged school officials in rural areas to keep their schools attuned to the needs of the people in their communities. D. E. Lindstrom made this appeal before the Illinois Community Schools Conference on Monday.

If this need is met, the school will prepare some students for farming. But it will also train some for business vocations and some for skilled and semi-skilled occupations in the community, he stressed.

Such a program will become more important as people tend to move out of the big cities and off the farms into the smaller communities. But, Lindstrom emphasized, since it is not certain where young people will live, rural schools have the added responsibility of preparing youth to live in the modern rural community as well as in urban areas.

Lindstrom pointed out that some school administrators often completely overlook the fact that differences still exist between urban and rural communities. Educational leaders should recognize these differences, he emphasized.

Schools have an obligation to point out not only the present-day deficiencies in rural life, but also the rural life, but also the rural values that should be nurtured so that we will not lose them from our democratic society, he concluded.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

The nation's level of economic activity has been holding at a high point but there will be some weaknesses in certain areas within the next few months because of recent cuts in defense spending, according to Walter J. Wills, marketing specialist in the Southern Illinois University school of agriculture.

The weaknesses probably will be more serious than those of 1955 and early 1956, he says. Employment is at a record level, and savings—estimated at 7.3 percent of disposable income—are higher than a year ago. Short term debts of individuals are also at a high level, and domestic demand during the rest of 1957 will remain high.

Foreign shipments of agricultural products, amounting to $4,700-000,000 in the year ending June 30, hit a new peak. A strong demand in the coming year is expected at present. The foreign demand for the United States-grown wheat may be strengthened by the drouths in the prairie provinces of Canada and in Europe. However the shipments of other agricultural products may be reduced somewhat by efforts in many European countries to stem inflationary forces.
Hence, Wills predicts agricultural exports for the coming year will be less than last year.

pleted in the spring wheat areas.
Wills believes it still is early to estimate the 1957 soybean crop.
Many beans were planted late and many fields have a spotty stand of plants. However, all factors considered, the total production ought to be near the 1956 record crop and by harvest time prices may be somewhat lower than last year.

Veterinarians at the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine point out that growth stimulators and antibiotics have their place in the poultry industry, but healthy chicks can get along very well without them.

Presentation of this display around the state is part of the Agricultural Marketing Development and Promotion program sponsored by the IAA, county Farm Bureaus and affiliated companies.

Thinking It Over

Fruit harvesters know that they must pack only firm fruit for shipment. A tiny soft spot begins to spoil. The bruise spreads its effect until it ruins not only the single piece of fruit, but also other solid fruit which touches it. A small spot will make a rotten basket.

In the same way, a small sin in any one of us can spread itself to influence every activity of our living. This influence touches our associates and degrades them also. In the same manner that the fruit packer culls out the bad fruit, so must we cull out the evil influences in our lives.

Although we may determine where these influences touch our lives, we shall not be able to restore our souls to full unblemished flavor without God's revitalizing forgiveness.

Court-Martial Acquits Corporal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A general court-martial Friday night acquitted Marine Cpl. Eugene W.
Osick of charges he caused brutal treatment of prisoners in his charge at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station brig.

The 200-pound Marine from Luprisonment for four years and a dishonorable discharge from the corps if found guilty of the four charges made against him as a result of a naval board of inquiry investigation.

The seven-man court, composed of six Marine officers and one Navy officer, ruled he was innocent of all charges and specifications after deliberating the case for one hour

Illinois Tops In Employment

CHICAGO (AP) — State Labor Director Roy F. Cummins has claimed for Illinois the title of most fully employed state in the union.

Illinois unemployment is 2.7 percent of the total insured labor force, he said, lower than the average for the nation and lower than any other state. He said the national average was 3.3.
Cummins said the number of gainfully employed workers in the state has increased 10 per cent over the 1950 figure, for a new total of 4,000,000 workers.

Miss Judith Ann Garrett and Drew Johnson Exchange Wedding Vows

Mrs. Drew Johnson
(Portrait by Ronnie's)

Miss Judith Ann Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Garrett, Norris City, and Drew Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Johnson, Norris City, were married in the Methodist church there, Friday, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Rev. Niles Stone performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar, decorated with burning white tapers and baskets of white gladioli.

Nancy Crouch, organist, played nuptial music preceding the ceremony and the wedding marches.
She also accompanied Carrie Shain who sang, "Because," "I'll Never Stop Loving You," "Let It Be Me" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

She wore a wedding gown of chrysaline and net, fashioned with a yoke of hand clipped, Chan-tantly lace. The fitted bodice was gracefully waisted with the Chan-tantly lace and a double row of the lace complemented the very full skirt, which extended into a chapel train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was edged with Chantilly lace and pearls and was secured to a small matching headpiece.
Her elbow length mitts were of the lace and pearls, also. She carried a cascade bouquet of white chrysanthemums tied with pearled satin streamers. She wore the bridegroom's gift, a white gold necklace and earrings, set with diamonds.

Carol Campbell served as her maid of honor and wore a baller-ina length gown of mint green, full skirted and styled with a cummerbund. The fitted bodice had a scooped neckline. Her matching headpiece was small, with a pearl trimmed veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations.

Rose Kelley, Creal Springs, Yvonne Edwards, Suzann Shain and Lutherne Garrett, bridesmaids, wore dresses of shrimp color, patterned after that of the maid of honor. Their matching headpieces were also similar to that of the maid of honor, of the color matching the dresses. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow carnations, each of individual styling. They wore the bride's gifts of pearl earrings.

Rebecca Ann Davis, cousin of the bride, was her flower girl and scattered rose petals in her path.
The flower girl's dress was of chrysaline and net, made with a rolled neckline. Her tiara of net was trimmed with pink rosebuds and her rose petal basket was trimmed with mint colored tulle and satin bows and streamers. She wore the pearl necklace, her gift from the bride.

Jack Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, acted as his best man.

The ushers were Bob Kinsall, Alton, George Piland, Denzil Moorehead and Gerald Norris.
Denzil Moorehead and Gerald Norris lighted the candles.

Ringbearer Tommy Lee Robertson, cousin of the bride, from Creal Springs, bore the rings on a white satin pillow, heart shaped and pearl and lace trimmed.

The bride's mother wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta and a white lace hat. Her accessories were navy blue and her corsage was a white orchid.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a grey dress for her son's wedding, with black and white accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage.

There was a reception immediately following the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. The three tiered wedding cake was topped with wedding bells and pink streamers attached to candelabras. Polished ivory and pom-poms were arranged around the cake, centered on the lace-over-pink covered table. Carolyn Kelley, Creal Springs, and Linda Harris, served cake and punch to the guests. Tedra Moore kept the guest book and Mary Wardlow was in charge of the gifts.

The bride is a graduate of the Norris City-Omaha high school class of 1957.

Mr. Johnson is a graduate of the Norris City-Omaha high school class of 1953 and is employed by the Kirk Drilling company in Carmi.

Following their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are at home to their friends in Norris City.

'Baruch--Faithful Secretary'

Jeremiah 36:4-8; 22-26, 32
MEMORY VERSE: "Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord." (Colossians 3:23)

INTRODUCTION—Today we pay tribute to secretaries. My! what a debt of gratitude every leader owes to the secretaries who play such an important role in our Lord's work.

Every man in the business knows the value of a loyal, faithful secretary. In our town recently, we heard a successful business man tell a service club that he owed a great deal of his success to his secretary. Every pastor, who has a good secretary, will give the same testimony. Every executive, in a place of leadership, will do the same. Many church families fail to recognize the value of a faithful church secretary.

Back of every successful man there is usually a capable secretary. It is usually a young woman who works quietly in the background, while he is out in front receiving the "honor" and the "glory."

Baruch was a faithful secretary. He was from a wealthy family. He could have lived a life of ease and spent his life in "riotous living." However, he chose to serve as secretary to the prophet Jeremiah. He recognized him as a man of God. Jeremiah was not popular with the people. He preached hard against their sinful ways. This made it a little more difficult for Baruch to make his choice. He chose right.

I THE SECRETARY WORKS (V. 4)

God spoke to Jeremiah, and as he spoke, Baruch took down his dictation in writing. Because of this we have the wonderful messages of Jeremiah to guide our lives today. How important the work of the secretary! The work of the secretary permits the message of God to be preserved for all future ages.

II THE SECRETARY TESTIFIES (V. 5-8)

For some unknown reason Jeremiah was unable to take the message into the Temple. The scripture just says that Jeremiah said that he was "shut up" and could not deliver the message.

Anyway, he requested his secretary to deliver the message that God has sent on this occasion. Please note that Jeremiah had confidence in his secretary to be able to accomplish the task. Any man who would take all the "glory" unto himself is indeed small in character. Perhaps some "boss" reading these lines ought to take note of his own attitude.

Baruch did as Jeremiah requested. He delivered the message to the people. The word went out to the princes, and they sent for him. He delivered the same message to them. He was faithful to his task!

III THE SECRETARY'S MESSAGE REJECTED (V. 22-26)
The princes delivered the message to the king, who was sitting before a fire. He would not heed God's warning. He should have confessed to God and repented, but instead, he took his pen-knife and cut the message into pieces and burned it in the fire.

People who reject God's message will always suffer the consequence. This is as true today as when the king rejected it in Baruch's day.

CONCLUSION (V. 32) It was Jeremiah's privilege to "add many more words to his message." Baruch remained the faithful secretary to the end. We owe much to him. Let every secretary take a lesson from this man of God. Faithfulness to God will always pay great dividends. You have been called to a great work. Be careful, and God will add His blessings!

TOGETHER

Every experience means more when it is shared. When father, mother and children go to church together they are sharing a beautiful experience. When they sing the songs of the gospel, read the Scripture, listen to the sermon, unite in prayer, they are adding to the joy of being together. When they open their hearts to God and pledge allegiance to Him, family life is strengthened. The "togetherness" reaches out to include fellowship with others.

Young people who grow up in the Church, who have a truly Christian home, are blessed with a tremendous advantage. They have learned to work and live with other people for the glory of God and the advancement of His cause. There is strength in the very thought of uniting in work and worship.

Together—what a difference it makes! Does your family go to Church together?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Braves Lose Third Straight; Reds Defeat Cardinals, 5-4; White Sox Gain on Yankees

By United Press
Major league baseball historians already are calling 1957 "the year of the reluctant champs."

"Everybody 'knows' the New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves 'can't' be overtaken but the two front-runners seem determined to prove figures can lie. With the pennants theirs for the taking, the Yankees have lost six of nine games and the Braves have dropped three straight."

The Chicago White Sox made the Yankees "pay" Friday night when they whipped the Kansas City Athletics, 4-3, after the world champs dropped a 4-3 decision to the Washington Senators. The White Sox' victory, achieved by a ninth-inning homer by pitcher Dixie Howell cut the Yankees' lead to 4½ games.

Cubs Dump Braves
The Chicago Cubs scored five runs in the seventh inning to dump the Braves, 5-4, but the National League leaders retained their 6½-game lead because the Cincinnati Redlegs whipped the second-place St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4.

The Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 4-3, and the Detroit Tigers downed the Cleveland Indians, 5-2, in other AL games while the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the New York Giants, 3-0, and the Pittsburgh Pirates shad the Philadelphia Phillies, 3-2, in other NL activity.

Howell, a 37-year-old right hander from Bowman, Tex., connected for his game-winning homer after the White Sox had rallied from a 3-0 deficit to tie the score at 3-3 in the eighth. Howell was credited with his fifth win.

Coleman Muffs Throw
Second-baseman Jerry Coleman muffed a force-out throw with the bases filled and two out in the ninth to enable Washington's Bob Usher to score the winning run against the Yankees. Sal Maglie, in his first start for the Yankees yielded three runs and seven hits in six innings.

A two-run single by Chuck Tanner and a two-run single by Dale Long sparked the Cubs' big inning which brought Bob Rush his fifth win and Bob Trowbridge his fifth setback.

Pinch-hitter Jerry Lynch walloped a three-run homer in the sixth inning to give the Redlegs their victory and enable them to tie the NL mark of 10 pinch home runs in a season.

Catcher Pete Daley's run-scoring double in the ninth provided the Red Sox with their winning run and rookie Murray Wall with his third straight win.

Jim Bunning won his 17th game and hit a "double play" grounder that produced three runs on two Cleveland errors as the Tigers handed Early Wynn his 16th defeat.

Johnny Podres pitched his sixth shutout and 11th triumph as the Dodgers mathematically eliminated the Giants from the NL race. Elmer Valo homered and Carl Furillo and Gino Cimoli had two hits each for Brooklyn.

Hank Foiles homered with two out in the sixth inning to give the Pirates the lead and Ronnie Kline protected it the remainder of the way to score his seventh victory compared to 15 losses.

Adams Working Eagles for Grid Opener Friday

Afternoon Workouts, Scrimmage at Night For Marion Tilt

Eldorado coach Al Adams is working his varsity footballers hard in an effort to get them at top condition for the opening game of the season—less than a week away.

Adams has been running his charges through a brisk workout in the afternoon after school, then giving them a long scrimmage under the lights at night.

Friday three regulars were on the injured list, with one definitely out for the first two or three weeks of the season, the status of another doubtful and the third expected to be ready to go soon.

Carl Justice, quarterback, has a shoulder separation, suffered in a scrimmage. Justice says he will be ready to play "in the Harrisburg game." That is the third game on the Eagles' schedule, Sept. 27. Adams isn't that optimistic.

James Wood, star end and co-captain, is still bothered with a knee that was injured late in the finale at Metropolis last year.

A special type of brace has been fitted to the knee and Woods was getting around fairly well Friday, but although Woods expresses confidence in his ability to play, coaches and fans are doubtful.

Fred Pool, center, was playing without pads and kept out of contact play, but his injury isn't looked on as serious and he should be ready to go in a hurry.

On the brighter side is the fine running of returning backfield aces Lester Feuouay and Jerry Rains, along with Leonard Willis, an end converted to halfback and Jack Fowler and Chuck McCallister, up from the 1956 reserve team.

Fowler has taken over the quarterbacking since Justice was injured. Rains is fullback, Feuouay, co-captain, is a halfback and McCallister and Willis also have been running from a halfback position. Several others with experience, either as reserve varsity or regular frosh-soph play last year, are working hard for backfield berths.

Bernard Goodley is a returning tackle who is looking exceptionally good and probably will handle the punting. Thornton Davis, Dwight Laffoon, Ronnie Hall, Ronnie Rains, Tom Baugher, Gary Reasons and Randy Scates are among a large number of good prospects coming up from last year's "B" team.

Eldorado opens at Marion next Friday night.

Mantle in Hospital
NEW YORK (AP)—New York Yankee star center-fielder Mickey Mantle will be hospitalized until next Tuesday in what club officials termed was a "rest." Mantle has been bothered the past week with shin splints and his activity was reduced to pinch-hitting roles.

A lunar rainbow occurs occasionally. The moon's rainbow differs from that of the sun only in intensity of color.

Dick Lehr, former Carrier Mills coach now at Fairfield, and at Bridgeport the past few years, will get a quick opportunity to see how his new school stacks up against a former one in football.

Although Lehr went to Fairfield as head cage coach, he also will assist in football and first game of the season pits present school—Fairfield—against last year's school—Bridgeport.

One of the mainstays of that great team—Al Gunzel—was talking with Coach Valtor when I stopped at the high school and states he is all ready to begin his sophomore year at Tulane University. He will return to the university Sept. 15.

Gunzel played on the Tulane freshman team and is considered a sure bet to make the varsity squad and given a berth on the starting five.

A teammate who also attended Tulane as a freshman—Jack Nolen—doesn't plan to return. He has been working this summer in the northern part of Illinois and will remain in the ranks of the employed.

Joe Wendryhoski, strong man from West Frankfort, apparently will be the only sophomore to get a starting assignment on the University of Illinois football team.

At present the 6-2, 205-pound Wendryhoski is considered the number one center. His defensive ability and speed has been particularly impressive.

Another southern Illinois sophomore candidate—Lindell Lovellette of Eldorado—has been switched from a guard to tackle and the change is referred to as "key" switch in a Champaign News-Gazette story.

The story says, in part, "The

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

There are several very basic rules of the road to be followed when traveling the open highway which some motorists fail to observe.

When motoring on wide highways, the driver should always keep his vehicle in line, keeping to the right except when passing. Lanes should be changed only when passing or when preparing to make a turn. Lines should not be straddled.

Other vehicles should be followed at a safe distance. At least one car length should be allowed for every 10 miles per hour of speed. Drivers should not increase their speed when other vehicles attempt to pass them.

All turns should be made from the proper lane. Right hand turns should be made from the lane nearest that side of the road, while left hand turns should be made from the lane next to the center line. Arm or mechanical signals should be used for turns and for stopping and slowing down.

Highest average (or mean) annual temperature in the United States is at Tavernier, Florida, 77.3 degrees Fahrenheit.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

Football is the topic of conversation these days in the larger schools, but a trip through Gallatin county Thursday, where none of the high schools play football, brought out a lot of basketball talk.

Equality principal and coach Tony Franc reports practically all of last year's cagers are back and he is looking forward to a successful season. Equality may issue a call for cross country runners soon, as basketball practice can't legally get under way until Oct. 1.

Ridgway coach Bob Dallas also is looking forward to a good year, with several of last year's players returning, including towering, high scoring Roger Suttner.

Dallas plans to play baseball during the remainder of September.

Darwin Valtor, back as Shawneetown coach after a year's absence, isn't sure just what his prospects are, but is sure of one thing. They aren't as good as they were his other year at Shawneetown—1955-56—when the team raced along unbeaten until the sectional tournament.

One of the mainstays of that great team—Al Gunzel—was talking with Coach Valtor when I stopped at the high school and states he is all ready to begin his sophomore year at Tulane University. He will return to the university Sept. 15.

Gunzel played on the Tulane freshman team and is considered a sure bet to make the varsity squad and given a berth on the starting five.

A teammate who also attended Tulane as a freshman—Jack Nolen—doesn't plan to return. He has been working this summer in the northern part of Illinois and will remain in the ranks of the employed.

Joe Wendryhoski, strong man from West Frankfort, apparently will be the only sophomore to get a starting assignment on the University of Illinois football team.

At present the 6-2, 205-pound Wendryhoski is considered the number one center. His defensive ability and speed has been particularly impressive.

Another southern Illinois sophomore candidate—Lindell Lovellette of Eldorado—has been switched from a guard to tackle and the change is referred to as "key" switch in a Champaign News-Gazette story.

The story says, in part, "The
